

TESTIMONY SHARING

Revelation 12:7–12 · Ephesians 2:1–10 · Luke 15:1–10

PURPOSE STATEMENT

Every believer has a testimony worth sharing — not because of how dramatic it is, but because of what it cost. This lesson is designed to help participants see the power and importance of the story God has given them, understand why every salvation testimony matters, and grow in confidence to share it with others.

NOTE TO THE FACILITATOR

Teaching points in this guide are intentionally brief. Facilitators should read the full blog post “Your Story Matters: How to Share Your Testimony with Confidence” at redeemedblog.com before leading this lesson for deeper explanation and context. Downloadable worksheets for both the Salvation Testimony and A Testimony of God’s Faithfulness are also available there.

FOCUS

1. On a scale of 1–10 (1 being not confident, 10 being very confident), how prepared do you feel to share your testimony with someone? Why?

STUDY

PAUSE HERE

Before we talk about how to share our testimonies, we need to understand why they matter in the first place. The Bible doesn’t treat testimony sharing as just a nice thing to do — it frames it as something with real spiritual significance. Let’s start in Revelation 12 and see what God’s Word says about the power of a believer’s story.

- 3. What is a testimony? What is powerful about a Christian’s testimony?
- 4. Do you think Satan knows that Christian testimonies are a weapon? Explain.

Now that we've seen how powerful a testimony can be in spiritual warfare, let's look at what's actually at the heart of every believer's story. Paul's letter to the Ephesians breaks down the gospel in a way that shows us why every salvation testimony — no matter how simple it seems — carries real weight.

READ EPHESIANS 2:1-10

5. Ephesians is a letter written to a church. Break down what Paul teaches about what is at the heart of every believer's salvation story:

(v. 1-3) Who are we before Christ? Why do we need saving?

(v. 4-9) How are we saved?

(v. 10) What is your life like after faith in Christ?

6. Will these elements of the Christian transformation be a part of the story of someone saved at an early age, or are they only for someone saved later in life? Explain.

7. If someone was saved at a young age, what part of their testimony may they focus more on? Why do you say that?

8. Even though the gospel is central to every believer's testimony, why can it still feel like you have nothing substantial to share? Explain.

PAUSE HERE

We've established that every salvation story is rooted in the same gospel — dead in sin, saved by grace, made new in Christ. But sometimes we still struggle to feel like our story matters. Jesus addresses that directly in Luke 15 with two short parables that reveal how heaven itself responds when someone comes to faith.

READ LUKE 15:1-10

9. What is the purpose of these two parables?

10. Who is rejoicing over your salvation? Does this celebration over the lost "thing" depend on how extravagant the missing time was?

11. What does heaven's rejoicing teach you about how you should view your salvation testimony?

APPLICATION

1. What steps can you take to grow your confidence in sharing the gospel this week?

REFLECT & CONNECT

Your testimony is not just your story — it's evidence of God's grace, power, and pursuit. The question isn't whether your story is worth sharing. It's whether you'll be willing to share it. This week, take one step toward telling someone what God has done in your life — whether that's writing it down, practicing it with a friend, or simply praying for the courage to share it when the moment comes.
